A brand new idea for holding championship cup competition for the selection of the best and strongest football team of the year world-wide.

Dear Sir/Madam

A- Soccer competitions are held in different countries each year world-wide such as European, American, Asian, African Champions Leagues, World Cup and others.

Our idea is to hold a tournament to make an opportunity so that champion teams play each other and the best and strongest football team of the year is recognized.

B- Since different soccer cup competitions are held in different continents each year and in view that the participating champion teams in cup competitions are different from those in the previous year, this variety makes the tournament more attractive (a combination of national and club teams).

C- In order to recognize the champion team of the cup competition, participating champion teams would better play each other in round-robin format so that all teams (eg. Seven teams) play each other and their performance will appropriately be assessed at the end of the tournament.

D- The outset of summer of each year will be the best time for holding this tournament because the champion teams of different leagues are recognized and they are off duty from their national league for two months.

E- I request you to keep legal rights and advantage of this cup or tournament for me.

Soccer World Club Championship in New Format

Formation of Participant Teams

1. Champions of 2007-2008 Season

The champions of national leagues in Europe; Winners of national FA Cup in Europe; Champions of American countries; Champion of Asian leagues; Champion of African leagues; Winners of European Champions League; Champion of African Club Championship and Winners of the previous edition of the Peace Cup.

2. Champions of 2008-2009

The champions of national leagues in Europe; Champion of UEFA Cup; Champions of American countries; Champion of Asian leagues; Champion of African leagues; Winners of European Champions League; Champion of African Club Championship and Winners of the previous edition of the Peace Cup.

3.Champion of 2009-2010

The champions of national leagues in Europe; Champion of UEFA Cup; Champions of American countries; Champion of Asian leagues; Champion of African leagues; Winners of European Champions League; Champion of African Club Championship;and Winners of the previous edition of the Peace Cup; Winners of 2010 World Cup; All Champions continental copetitions of Europe, Asia, Americas and Africa in 2007-2008 and 2008-2009 seasons as well as the previous winners of the Peace Cup.

4. Champions of 2010-2011

The champions of national leagues in Europe; Champion of UEFA Cup; Champions of American countries; Champion of Asian leagues; Champion of African leagues; Winners of European Champions League; Champion of African Club Championship and Winners of the previous edition of the Peace Cup.

So there will be a large number of participants in the years when the Soccer World Club Championship Cup is held. Since all teams face each other in a round-robin format championship, the real world champion can be introduced. On the other hand there will be no necessity to hold the current format of the World Soccer Club Championship which is held in Japan.Oceanea continent will join the Asian confederation tournaments.
